At Black Grove, our cattle have been bred from a gene pool of proven historic bloodlines to be moderate at birth, wean 45% of their dam's body weight, breed yearly in our environment and do this on pasture, hay and minerals. We breed for longevity and functionality to reduce the cost of turnover and capital expenditures. Only cattle with maternal traits – fertility, functionality, smooth-fronted, great feet and quality udders – remain in our breeding program. Our moderate size cows have less feed requirements, stay in better condition and breed back. At Black Grove, we focus on breeding cattle that will control costs and increase profit. For further information, please visit our website at BlackGrove.com.

Breeding the most efficient and productive manufacturing plants in the cattle industry – the Angus cow!
